

The majesty of Mount Everest—a striking photograph of the East Rongbuk Glacier, made from one of the last camps of the British expedition, showing some of the dangers which beset the intrepid climbers and caused them to abandon their attempt with the goal only two days' climb away. Wide World.

Miss Evelina P. Gleaves, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Albert Gleaves, selling balloons at the lawn fete given at the villa of the Misses Mason at Newport, R. I. Underwood & Underwood

Above—Little Barbara Shewan, daughter of Mrs. E. A. Shewan of New York, ready for a spin in her mother's motor car at Southampton, L. I.

Underwood & Underwood.

The Archbishop of Canterbury (left) and Cardinal Bourne, heads of their respective churches in England, caught in an informal meeting at the opening of the new County Hall, Westminster. Wide World.

Lady Astor presenting prizes to the winners of the nurses' tennis competition at St. Marylebone Hospital, London. Keystone.

Above—Two rare specimens of the zebra family arriving here aboard the steamship Oregonian from Hamburg in company with a full shipload of rare animals. International.

A new photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Burbank, made at their home in Santa Rosa, Cal. Pacific and Atlantic.

At Left—American troops on the Rhine commemorating the recapture of Chateau Thierry in the second battle of the Marne holding a celebration at Coblenz. Photo shows Gen. Johnson, American liaison officer, and Col. Piazza, commander of the French garrison, at a field mass in honor of the dead. Pacific and Atlantic.